14 August 1986

Dear Artists,

Here is your copy of the Save Life on Earth catalog. Our shipment has just arrived by sea. We are critical of the publisher since text errors abound, reproduction quality is uneven and numerous excellent works do not appear at all. Still, the spirit of the exhibition is evident and response has been very good.

So far the exhibition has been in Budapest, Moscow, Geneva, Oslo, Essen, Cologne. 35,000 people came during two weeks in Beijing. It opened August 4th in Hiroshima and from March 1987 through 1988 will tour North America, appearing in science and childrens' museums as well as art museums.

We know the tour is longer than you expected but demand has been greater than we expected. If we were not tired (like you we are volunteers) the schedule might be even longer.

We have heard from a few of you. We would like to hear from many of you. If you write in another language we will translate.

With warm greetings,

Nyna Brael Polumbaum, Roy Brown, Ann Stewart and the others
